Characteristics

BlancOne® Home

✓ Whiter and brighter teeth from the first application

Thanks to the two-component formulation

BlancOne® Home is quickly activated guaranteeing excellent results with a faster application as compared to the traditional systems

✓ With hydroxyapatite to reinforce the enamel

BlancOne® Home has a double action:

In addition to the whitening effect,

the gel contains micronized hydroxyapatite

which, during the treatment, binds to the enamel repairing and reinforcing it.

✓ With hyaluronic acid to protect mucous membranes

During the treatment the tray releases part of the gel

The hyaluronic acid contained in the gel creates a barrier which nourishes and protect the gums

while the oxygen released has an anti-bacterial effect

✓ Low viscosity-reduced sensitiveness

The low viscosity gel minimises dehydration of the enamel considerably reducing sensitiveness issues

✓ Physiological pH

The gel pH (5.6 – 6.0) is the natural pH of the oral cavity gentle to enamel and mucous membranes

it guarantees maximum effectiveness allowing storage at room temperature*.

✓ Without colourants, flavourings and gluten

The formulation of the whitening gel has been conceived to minimise chances of irritation of the gingival tissues and avoid problems in case of ingestion of small quantities.

✓ Available in two versions

BlancOne® Home suits your patients' needs:

Day treatment (2-3 hours): BlancOne Home DAY – Carbamide 16% (HP 5.6%)

Night treatment (overnight): BlancOne Home NIGHT – Carbamide 10% (HP 3.5%)

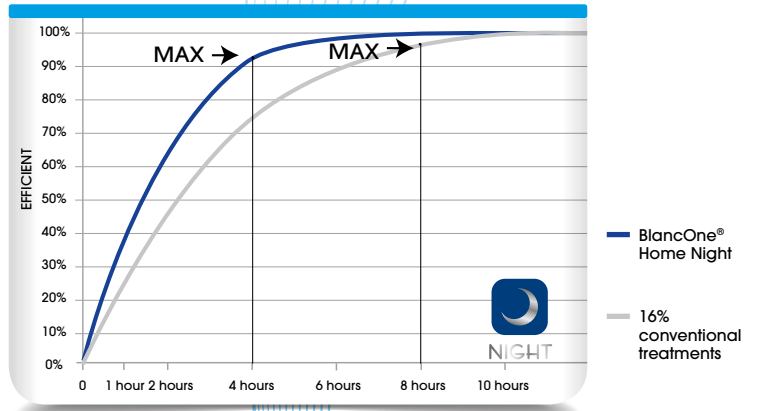

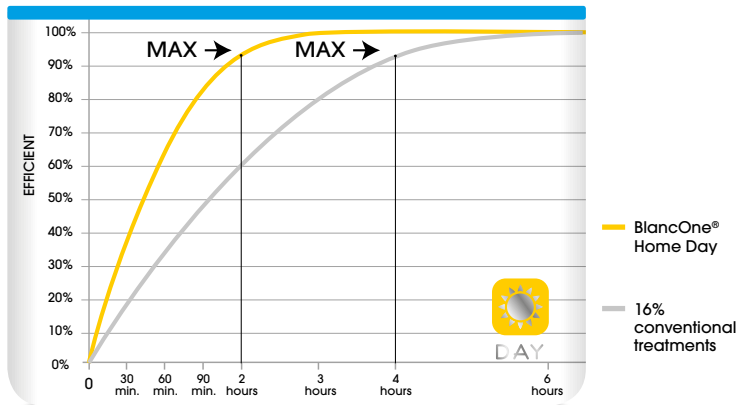

* Once mixed the product must be stored in the fridge

Maximum effectiveness

In half the time

Thanks to BlancOne HOME two-component formulation, it releases active oxygen much faster than the conventional treatments, guaranteeing maximum effectiveness in a very short time.

A greater comfort in the daily treatments and a guaranteed effectiveness even in a few hours' sleep.
